ess horsemen in the announcement that the great pacing gelding Frank Agon is to make his reappearance on the turf the ming season. Agon's last race was at Lexington in '96. In that event he wrenched an ankle badly and was not fit for work all last year. He has come looked to for some great work when he again takes to the track. Agon's mark is 2:00 2-4. In 1995-'96, the "Irish horse," as he is called, was one of the star performers among the harness brigade. He was then a wonderful racing machine and at different times gave the dust to all of the great pacers, including Star Pointer, Robert J., and Joe Patchen. One of his most sensational races was when he took into camp Robert J. and Joe Patchen at Cleveland, going three heats in 2:05, 2:01, 2:64 3-4, but he went a better one the northwest, Dealness.

This is the fastest fourheat race ever paced, and when the two met at Providence, R. I., a few weeks later, they paced the best five-heat race ever witnessed. This time the verdict was reversed, Agan taking the last three heats in 2.05 1-2, 2.05 1-4, 2:06, after hav-ing forced "little Robert" out in the first ing forced little Robert out in the first two in 2:03 1-4 and 2:05. No matter what other opinion may be formed of ex-Champion Jim Corbett and his manager, Billy Brady, it must be conceded that they are hustlers when there is a dollar in sight, says the Philadelphia Record. The theatrical season is about closing, and, they want to make hay while the sun shines. Corbett's fighting days are about over, and he is not set-ting the world on fire as an actor. But there is still a great curiosity to see a real live prize fighter, especially in the country districts, where the "Reubens" are willing to part with their coin on the slightest possible excuse. Last year Brady took Corbett around the country as a baseball star. Jim could not play ball as good as hundreds of semi-professionals and amateurs who are to be found in clubs all over the country. But curiosity to see the "pompadour pu-gilist" crowded the ball parks, and the combination cleaned up some $17,000 on the season's work, all clear money, as it was made while Corbett would otherwise have been doing nothing. Now the hus-tling Brady has another scheme. He thinks bleycle racing will be more popu-lar than any other sport during the com-ing summer, and he is preparing to rig thy if not the contempt of every sturdy American boy. Poor little Alfonso has so many teachers, it is a wonder his poor Corbett up as a scorcher and take him around the country as a star attraction at bleycle race meets, and no doubt the "yaps" will come out and see Corbett on a bicycle, although, as compared with cycle racing champions, he can't ride fast enough to keep warm.

Col. Black, of California, is out with an offer of $1,000 to any two bicycle riders who will beat his horse Prince Hooker, and proposes to pay their expenses to Los Angeles and return from any part of the country, and during their stay there, if they beat him. Black stipulates that the wheelmen must beat Hooker in five races - one, two, three, four, and five

It was The rule recently adopted by the Naonal Trotting Horse Association regarding the use of hobbles on the race track is occasioning no end of comment from owners and drivers. A horseman, speaking of the new order through an exchange, says: "Considering how dangerous a machine some hobbled horses have ous a machine some hooded horses have proved to be it would seem to an unpreju-diced observer that the hobbled brigade has been treated very leniently. A whole year should be sufficient in which to teach their brutes to race without the aid of straps. A hobbled horse not only endangers the life of his own driver, but of every other way in the race well. of every other man in the race as well. It is well enough to use an appliance to teach a horse his gait, but such assist-ance should never have been allowed to be used in public races, which are sup-posed to be the means of determining the best strains of stock. If a trotter cannot trot without artificial help he is not a de-sirable trotter and the same may be said of pacers."

F. W. Ware, whose name is familiar to the racing world through his connection with the American Horse Exchange, gives out the interesting information that he intends to revolutionize trotting horse meetings if he can get a suitable track in or near New York. He believes the sport can be made popular if conducted on up-to-date lines, and will make a test by giving a trial meeting in May or June. He says the reason why trotting races in he.

Stxth race, seven furlongs—K. C., 15 to 1, won; Lillian E., second; Hurns, third. He says the reason why trotting races are not as popular as running races is because of the antiquated ideas that the trotting people cling to in conducting a meeting. "People are tired of long-heat races that have to be continued from one day to another, and open the door for unlimited short practices," says Ware. "They want quick action, and they want to have the trotting sport conducted with the same spap of the running turf." Mr. Ware proposes to give a short meeting of three or four days of about five dash or taree or rour days of about five dash races and one two-in-three-heat race each day. The races to be at distances rang-ing from six furlongs to two miles and a half. Few, if any, of the events will be at a mile. He has come around all right now, however, and is turn must have its share of attractive plums, and his protests because Baltimore did not get the choicest dates are de-cidedly out of order. The schedule was carefully and conscientiously compiled by Mr. Young, whose record for fairness is well known, and it was adopted as usual without looking at it. This has been the custom for years, for the excellent reason that if the magnates were in the habit of looking over the schedule before voting on it their desire for the best dates would make them indulge in prolonged wran-

EASTERN LEAGUE MEETING. The Brush "Black List" Rule Adopted in Its Entirety.

New York, March 9.—The Eastern League of Professional Baseball Clubs, at its annual Spring schedule meeting held in the Fifth Avenue Hotel today, followed the example set by the National League at St. Louis last week indors ing and adopting the Brush "black list" rule, which was drawn to punish players who use obscene language on the ball field. The Eastern League also adopted the special umpire rules of the big orto suspend kickers for a period of not more than three days. It was admitted by all of the delegates that rowdvism would have to be suppressed as summa rily as the National League had decided to do, and when Delegate Franklin, of Buffalo, moved that the black list rule in its entirety be adopted there was not a dissenting voice. Power was bestowed pon the president of the league, Pat. T Powers, to select a board of discipline to consist of three members. While the delegates did not sign an agreement to keep their players from kicking they assured one another in the most positive way that kicking and un-sportsmanlike tactics would be tabooed this year on every ground in the league. The fact that the Eastern League is in a most prosperous condition was demon-strated by the rapidity with which the delegates accomplished their business.

AGED COLORED WOMAN DEAD. Supposed That She Was Accidentally

Poisoned. Anne Bean, colored, ninety-six years o ige, died suddenly yesterday afternoon a her home, No. 422 Fifth Street southeast

Her death is supposed to be due to acciiental poisoning. Mrs. Bean and several other member f the family, named Ferguson, became very ill soon after breakfast vesterday. Owing to her advanced years and conse ment frailty she rapidly grew worse, and ited about 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon The others were believed to be out of danger last night. Coroner Carr called at the house during the afternoon and investigated the mat-ter. He was unable to determine whether there had been poison in the milk used at breakfast or the food, and ordered the body to be removed to the morgue, wher
